The Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 places a legal duty on employers and hence it is essential to appoint a Fire Warden and/or Fire Marshall to meet the relevant parts of that statute.

Guide to content:

- How fires are started, basic chemistry to extinguish a fire and methods, escape routes, escape doors, flammability of building components, methods to check/identify fire doors, dealing with injured, disabled, or seriously ill. Dealing with some complications that may arise in a fire.
- Signs, lighting, alarms, detection equipment etc and managing evacuation procedures. Duties of the Fire Warden / Fire Marshall, essential checks and procedures managing fire drills. Fire fighting, what can and cannot be done, maintenance checks and recommended frequencies.
- Priorities for the Fire Warden and what can be used as fire fighting equipment. Convective, conductive and radiation transmissions, awareness of the requirements during building or alteration works, various fire fighting systems, and automated systems. Procedures on how to escape in a smoke filled environment. How to deal with panic and understanding the basics of some psychology and typical reactions that may occur when people evacuate.

*Supporting video, group exercises, practical use of fire extinguisher and a group project .
Comprehensive notes provided with the course.*

Course content and duration may vary as a result of changes needed to comply with the requirements of legislation or necessary updates, but details were correct at the time of publication.

Course notes included, Full days tuition (typically 0900 to 1630)

This is a certificated course (plus passport cards) and is assessed with a multi choice test.

(you can have as few as you like in the group or the max permitted or even 1:1 tuition)

Quotations by BST are provided for the course to meet your specific requirements and will vary dependant on the number of candidates, distance, and venue etc.

We also provide a half day course to meet the statutory duty to train all staff in fire awareness and this can include your own building evacuation arrangements – please ask for details.
